(b) Use the Multiple Jobs Worksheet on page 3 and enter the result in Step 4(c) below; or

(c) If there are only two jobs total, you may check this box. Do the same on Form W-4 for the other job. This option is generally more accurate than (b) if pay at the lower paying job is more than half of the pay at the higher paying job. Otherwise, (b) is more accurate

TIP: If you have self-employment income, see page 2.

Complete Steps 3–4(b) on Form W-4 for only ONE of these jobs. Leave those steps blank for the other jobs. (Your withholding will be most accurate if you complete Steps 3–4(b) on the Form W-4 for the highest paying job.)

Future Developments

For the latest information about developments related to Form W-4, such as legislation enacted after it was published, go to www.irs.gov/FormW4.

Purpose of Form

Complete Form W-4 so that your employer can withhold the correct federal income tax from your pay. If too little is withheld, you will generally owe tax when you file your tax return and may owe a penalty. If too much is withheld, you will generally be due a refund. Complete a new Form W-4 when changes to your personal or financial situation would change the entries on the form. For more information on withholding and when you must furnish a new Form W-4, see Pub. 505, Tax Withholding and Estimated Tax.

Exemption from withholding. You may claim exemption from withholding for 2023 if you meet both of the following conditions: you had no federal income tax liability in 2022 and you expect to have no federal income tax liability in 2023. You had no federal income tax liability in 2022 if (1) your total tax on line 24 on your 2022 Form 1040 or 1040-SR is zero (or less than the sum of lines 27, 28, and 29), or (2) you were not required to file a return because your income was below the filing threshold for your correct filing status. If you claim exemption, you will have no income tax withheld from your paycheck and may owe taxes and penalties when you file your 2023 tax return. To claim exemption from withholding, certify that you meet both of the conditions above by writing "Exempt" on Form W-4 in the space below Step 4(c). Then, complete Steps 1(a), 1(b), and 5. Do not complete any other steps. You will need to submit a new Form W-4 by February 15, 2024.

Your privacy. If you have concerns with Step 2(c), you may choose Step 2(b); if you have concerns with Step 4(a), you may enter an additional amount you want withheld per pay period in Step 4(c).

Self-employment. Generally, you will owe both income and self-employment taxes on any self-employment income you receive separate from the wages you receive as an employee. If you want to pay income and self-employment taxes through withholding from your wages, you should enter the self-employment income on Step 4(a). Then compute your self-employment tax, divide that tax by the number of pay periods remaining in the year, and include that resulting amount per pay period on Step 4(c). You can also add half of the annual amount of self-employment tax to Step 4(b) as a deduction. To calculate self-employment tax, you generally multiply the self-employment income by 14.13% (this rate is a quick way to figure your self-employment tax and equals the sum of the 12.4% social security tax and the 2.9% Medicare tax multiplied by 0.9235). See Pub. 505 for more information, especially if the sum of self-employment income multiplied by 0.9235 and wages exceeds $160,200 for a given individual.

Nonresident alien. If you're a nonresident alien, see Notice 1392, Supplemental Form W-4 Instructions for Nonresident Aliens, before completing this form.

Specific Instructions

Step 1(c). Check your anticipated filing status. This will determine the standard deduction and tax rates used to compute your withholding.

Step 2. Use this step if you (1) have more than one job at the same time, or (2) are married filing jointly and you and your spouse both work.

If you (and your spouse) have a total of only two jobs, you may check the box in option (c). The box must also be checked on the Form W-4 for the other job. If the box is checked, the standard deduction and tax brackets will be cut in half for each job to calculate withholding. This option is roughly accurate for jobs with similar pay; otherwise, more tax than necessary may be withheld, and this extra amount will be larger the greater the difference in pay is between the two jobs.

Multiple jobs. Complete Steps 3 through 4(b) on only one Form W-4. Withholding will be most accurate if you do this on the Form W-4 for the highest paying job.

Step 3. This step provides instructions for determining the amount of the child tax credit and the credit for other dependents that you may be able to claim when you file your tax return. To qualify for the child tax credit, the child must be under age 17 as of December 31, must be your dependent who generally lives with you for more than half the year, and must have the required social security number. You may be able to claim a credit for other dependents for whom a child tax credit can't be claimed, such as an older child or a qualifying relative. For additional eligibility requirements for these credits, see Pub. 501, Dependents, Standard Deduction, and Filing Information. You can also include other tax credits for which you are eligible in this step, such as the foreign tax credit and the education tax credits. To do so, add an estimate of the amount for the year to your credits for dependents and enter the total amount in Step 3. Including these credits will increase your paycheck and reduce the amount of any refund you may receive when you file your tax return.

Step 4 (optional).

Step 4(a). Enter in this step the total of your other estimated income for the year, if any. You shouldn't include income from any jobs or self-employment. If you complete Step 4(a), you likely won't have to make estimated tax payments for that income. If you prefer to pay estimated tax rather than having tax on other income withheld from your paycheck, see Form 1040-ES, Estimated Tax for Individuals.

Step 4(b). Enter in this step the amount from the Deductions Worksheet, line 5, if you expect to claim deductions other than the basic standard deduction on your 2023 tax return and want to reduce your withholding to account for these deductions. This includes both itemized deductions and other deductions such as for student loan interest and IRAs.

Step 4(c). Enter in this step any additional tax you want withheld from your pay each pay period, including any amounts from the Multiple Jobs Worksheet, line 4. Entering an amount here will reduce your paycheck and will either increase your refund or reduce any amount of tax that you owe.

Step 2(b)—Multiple Jobs Worksheet (Keep for your records.)

If you choose the option in Step 2(b) on Form W-4, complete this worksheet (which calculates the total extra tax for all jobs) on only ONE Form W-4. Withholding will be most accurate if you complete the worksheet and enter the result on the Form W-4 for the highest paying job. To be accurate, submit a new Form W-4 for all other jobs if you have not updated your withholding since 2019.

Note: If more than one job has annual wages of more than $120,000 or there are more than three jobs, see Pub. 505 for additional tables.

- 1 Two jobs. If you have two jobs or you're married filing jointly and you and your spouse each have one job, find the amount from the appropriate table on page 4. Using the "Higher Paying Job" row and the "Lower Paying Job" column, find the value at the intersection of the two household salaries and enter that value on line 1. Then, skip to line 3 2 Three jobs. If you and/or your spouse have three jobs at the same time, complete lines 2a, 2b, and 2c below. Otherwise, skip to line 3.
a Find the amount from the appropriate table on page 4 using the annual wages from the highest paying job in the "Higher Paying Job" row and the annual wages for your next highest paying job in the "Lower Paying Job" column. Find the value at the intersection of the two household salaries and enter that value on line 2a
b Add the annual wages of the two highest paying jobs from line 2a together and use the total as the wages in the "Higher Paying Job" row and use the annual wages for your third job in the "Lower Paying Job" column to find the amount from the appropriate table on page 4 and enter this amount on line 2b
c Add the amounts from lines 2a and 2b and enter the result on line 2c
3 Enter the number of pay periods per year for the highest paying job. For example, if that job pays weekly, enter 52; if it pays every other week, enter 26; if it pays monthly, enter 12, etc.
4 Divide the annual amount on line 1 or line 2c by the number of pay periods on line 3. Enter this amount here and in Step 4(c) of Form W-4 for the highest paying job (along with any other additional amount you want withheld)

Step 4(b)—Deductions Worksheet (Keep for your records.)

- 1 Enter an estimate of your 2023 itemized deductions (from Schedule A (Form 1040)). Such deductions may include qualifying home mortgage interest, charitable contributions, state and local taxes (up to $10,000), and medical expenses in excess of 7.5% of your income
2 Enter: { $27,700 if you're married filing jointly or a qualifying surviving spouse; $20,800 if you're head of household; $13,850 if you're single or married filing separately }
3 If line 1 is greater than line 2, subtract line 2 from line 1 and enter the result here. If line 2 is greater than line 1, enter "-0-"
4 Enter an estimate of your student loan interest, deductible IRA contributions, and certain other adjustments (from Part II of Schedule 1 (Form 1040)). See Pub. 505 for more information
5 Add lines 3 and 4. Enter the result here and in Step 4(b) of Form W-4

Harassment Policy

IT IS A MATTER OF RESPECT FOR ONE ANOTHER

Harassment Hotline: 1-800-824-8367

Unique and our Client (your worksite company) will not tolerate any kind of harassment in the workplace. Harassment in the workplace encompasses a broad range of behavior, including conduct that relates to a participant's gender, race, religion, color, national origin, age or disability. Unique and our clients seek to maintain a working environment in which every participant is treated with dignity and mutual respect. Harassment is inconsistent with this philosophy as it undermines participant morale, creates suspicion and hostility between co-workers, and interferes with productivity. Unique and our Clients seek to provide a workplace free of verbal and physical harassment or intimidation of any kind. Harassment is a serious matter and is prohibited in the workplace by any person and in any form. Unique and/or our client will promptly investigate alleged harassment and will take appropriate action.

DEFINITIONS

Sexual Harassment

Unwelcome sexual advances, request for sexual favors, and other verbal or physical conduct of a sexual nature constitute harassment when one or more of the following apply:

- Submission to such conduct is made an explicit or implicit term or condition of a participant's work experience;
- Submission to or rejection of such conduct by a participant is used as a basis for training decisions affecting the participant;
- Such conduct unreasonably interferes with a participant's work performance or creates an intimidating, hostile or offensive working environment.

"Verbal or physical conduct" includes, but is not limited to: sexually-related comments; telling off-color jokes; commenting on physical attributes; sexually suggestive pictures, notes or signs; unseemly gestures or sounds; touching; use of demeaning or inappropriate terms or names; crude or offensive language; discussing sexual activity about or around others; engaging in hostile physical conduct; sabotaging a victims' work; granting job favors to those who participate in consensual sexual activity.

Sex-based Harassment

Unwelcome comments or conduct directed towards an individual because of her/his sex (gender) or said about a particular sex (gender), which unreasonably interferes with an individual's work performance or creates an intimidating, hostile or offensive work environment may constitute sex-based harassment. In contrast to sexual harassment, these comments or conduct do not have to be of a sexual nature. Examples of sex-based harassment are:

- Repeatedly demeaning or criticizing an individual because of her/his sex (gender), e.g., comments such as "you're a woman (or man) what do you know" or "we'd be better off if women would just stay home and mind the kids."
- Repeated comments, although not directly made to a particular individual, that demean or criticize members of that sex (gender) e.g. "women/men are so stupid they can't get anything right."
- Threatening or intimidating an individual because of their sex (gender) through the use of hostile or threatening words and/or behavior.

Religious, Racial, National Origin, Age and Disability Harassment

Derogatory slurs and other verbal or physical conduct relating to an individual's religion, race, national origin, age or disability constitute harassment when this conduct:

- Has the purpose or effect of creating an intimidating, hostile or offensive work environment;
- Has the purpose or effect of unreasonably interfering with an individual's work performance; or
- Otherwise adversely affect an individual's work experience opportunities.

RETALIATION

Unique and our Client strictly prohibit retaliation against a participant for filing a complaint or for assisting in an investigation, even if the investigation does not find that the alleged harassment occurred. Examples of retaliation include, but are not limited to: changes in terms and conditions of training, sabotaging work, and talking negatively about the participant to others.

COMPLAINT PROCEDURE

Any participant who believes that he/she has been harassed should report the conduct in question as soon as possible. The report or complaint should be made to the participant's supervisor or the supervisor's supervisor as well as any member of management if the complaint involves the participant's supervisor and call Unique's Harassment HOT LINE at 1-800-824-8367

The goal of Unique and our Client (your worksite company) is to establish a harassment-free workplace for all participants. We view harassment and inappropriate behavior in the workplace as unlawful, unprofessional and requiring immediate corrective action. You are highly encouraged to report harassment before it becomes severe or pervasive. Remember, it is a matter of respect for one another. The Unique team's well being is important to us and your compliance with this policy will benefit you and your fellow participants.
